1. Adaptability
   Ability to change plans, methods, options, or goals in light of new information.

2. Critical Thinking and Ethical Problem Solving
   Ability to identify, analyze, and evaluate situations, ideas, and information to formulate responses and solutions ethically.

3. Communication Skills
   Ability to listen to, understand, convey, and contextualize information through verbal, nonverbal, visual, and written means. This includes the capacity to communicate both face-to-face and remotely using current communication and information technology.

4. Collaboration, Teamwork, and Leadership
   Ability to effectively direct, guide, and inspire others to accomplish a common goal, and capacity to work in a team towards a shared objective, including the ability to prevent and manage conflict.

5. Competency in Intercultural and Global Relationships
   Ability to have meaningful and productive interactions with people from diverse cultures, races, ages, genders, sexual orientations, and religions in a socially, culturally, and ethically appropriate way. Additionally, it may include the capacity to communicate effectively with others using a foreign language.

6. Cultural and Civic Literacy
   Ability to understand, appreciate, analyze, and apply knowledge of the humanities and the social sciences.